

Exploring international dimensions in research, teaching and outreach | September 2, 2008

Chinese Educators at UI

Visit global.aces.uiuc.edu/travelogue/ for more pictures.

Chinese Educators Visit UI to learn Extension, 4-H

The educators spent a month learning more about how UI and 4-H operate in Illinois and is a part of an ongoing UI Extension relationship with China. For more information visit their blog at <http://web.extension.uiuc.edu/china/blogs/eb158/>

ACES Global Connect Hosts Barrage of International Visitors

More than 18 different international guests from more than 10 countries have visited ACES this summer. ACES Global Connect hosts these visitors as a part of outreach activities, and visits include presentations by ACES staff, tours of research facilities, and discussions of possible future joint programs. For more information or if you have an upcoming visitor to ACES contact Betsy Morley at 333 9397.

Global Connect
aces-global@illinois.edu
Visit <http://global.aces.uiuc.edu/> for ACES Global Connect information.

ACES Global Connect Bids Farewell to Mary Ann Lila

Mary Ann Lila, who has served for the past 2 years at ACES Global Connect Interim Director, left UI this month to become director of the Institute for Advanced Fruit and Vegetable Science at North Carolina State University. A search for the new director is forthcoming.

ACES Global Academy Concentrates on Brazilian Bioenergy Network

The ACES Global Academy will explore the Bioenergy Network in Brazil during their immersion trip November 12-24. As a part of their trip, the group will meet with agricultural researchers at the prestigious University of Sao Paulo's ESALQ campus to find joint research opportunities and attend a joint UI-USP conference in Ihla Bella. The group has prepared for the trip this summer by visiting with different experts on Brazilian culture and business.

Nominations Open for Campus Internationalization Awards

Campus awards for outstanding undergraduate and graduate students, and young alumni who have excelled in the international arena are now open for nominations. Please review campus deadlines and apply before October 17 using this web address: <http://www.ilint.uiuc.edu/awards/graduate.php>.

For more information about ACES Global Connect contact aces_global@illinois.edu